Since 1985 many new souls incarnating on Earth are members of a new species of Humans. These have had different names such as Indigo children, Crystal children, etc. As time goes on, there appear to be new waves of these advanced children appearing all the time. There was no dramatic shift in our civilization in the year 2012 as some had predicted; however, as these children grow older they WILL change the Earth. In the meantime there seem to be higher suicide rates among young people. The problems in the school system are overwhelming for many different reasons, partly because the old teaching methods are simply not working with these children whose brains are wired differently from ours. YOU ARE WONDERFUL offers a simple method to improve academic work as well as feelings of self worth that can be used by parents, educators and counselors. The book includes a series of short "stories" designed to induce right hemisphere thinking followed by positive suggestions. The original research was conducted in a public school setting with fourth, fifth and sixth graders for Dr. Fuqua's doctoral dissertation. However, feedback has shown that these stories and concepts can be very helpful to even teenagers and adults. A section at the end presents simple explanations of the metaphysical concepts used in the stories. These include spirit guides, auras, chakras and numerology with examples of why these are important for children and parents to understand. Based on Dr. Fuqua's 33 years as a teacher, resource specialist and counselor, she gives many insights into methods that can help children grow into compassionate, competent adults.
